Bon Secours Maryview Medical Center provides cancer education and support groups. Support groups offer information and education to cancer patients and family members. Groups are open to patients, family members, and close friends to help them deal with the physical, emotional, and spiritual aspects of cancer. The cancer support group is a program of the Bon Secours Cancer Institute. Lectures, movies, and programs are conducted by medical staff and provide information about nutrition, pain, control, stress, and other cancer-related topics.
