American Air Ambulance provides domestic and international inter-facility medical transport of patients requiring various levels of assistance. Medical transport is offered 24 hours per day to adult and pediatric patients. Specially trained aeromedical transport nurses, paramedics, respiratory therapists, and specialty trauma medics are on board the aircraft.

Multiple aircraft options are available to meet individual needs and budget considerations. All planes are equipped with state-of-the-art life support equipment to meet the critical care needs of the patient. Utilized are air ambulance jets, including Learjet and Gulfstream, as well as King Air and Cessna aircraft. Each plane is outfitted with the latest medical equipment and is strategically positioned to respond quickly to a patients' needs. Each aircraft is inspected regularly and uses state-of-the-art air ambulance medical equipment to ensure the safety and well-being of the patient.

Call us for immediate answers to the air ambulance, medevac, emergency airlift transportation, medical air transport, or patient escort questions.

Trained medical assistants on board the aircraft work hard to make patients and customers feel comfortable throughout the course of the flight.
