An information resource for Virginia older adults, veterans, people with disabilities and those who care for them.

VirginiaNavigator is a 501c3 non-profit organization that provides free information about the community resources available to Virginians. The information focuses on older adult related issues such as health and aging, financial concerns, legal questions, health facilities, assisted living and housing, exercise programs, support groups and more. Support for VirginiaNavigator comes from contributions made by individuals (people like you), corporations, and foundations. All contributions are tax-deductible. Your donation is important to us and important to those struggling to find help with care in Virginia.

The information is organized on this website, and allows you to search using your ZIP code or County. Searching by ZIP code or county identifies the resources available in your community.

In addition to the website, VirginiaNavigator works with a volunteer network that brings the information on the website to our friends and neighbors without computers or Internet access. These volunteers, called Navigators, help staff VirginiaNavigator Centers.

Navigator Centers are organizations throughout Virginia that voluntarily provide free access and assistance with the website.
