The Equal Rights Center is a non-profit civil rights organization dedicated to identifying, challenging and eliminating discrimination in housing, employment, public accommodations and government services through education, research, testing, counseling enforcement and advocacy.

Counseling: Talk to a trained staff member about discrimination. Free counseling and paths to resolution will be discussed.

Education: Workshops are given to community groups, churches, community centers, classrooms and more to explain civil rights law and give examples of individual's rights under the law.

Call the Outreach Department or email Grant Beck, The ERC Communications and Outreach Associate, at gbeck@equalrightscenter.org for more information.
