Anatomy Gifts Registry(AGR) is a whole body donor program owned and operated by the Anatomic Gift Foundation. Donating a whole body helps advance medical science. The tissue that is not matched for research is then cremated and cremains delivered to the family. You can be an organ donor and still donate your body to AGR.

The mission of AGR's caring and compassionate program is to serve meritorious scientists, clinicians and educators with expertly prepared human anatomical gift specimens. Orthopedic surgical techniques, Alzheimer's research, dentistry and paramedic training are just a few of the research programs that AGR works with.

Call for the donation process, the future donor registry and the unregistered donor process.
