The United Spinal Association of Virginia has a support group for families of people with spinal cord injuries (SCI). Please contact the office for more information.

Members will receive information about upcoming events and initiatives and become part of a larger community. Members get together for activities, participate in educational programs, and make their voices heard in member meetings. Individuals do not have to have a spinal cord injury to become a member. Anyone who is impacted by SCI is welcome to join.

If you need family support or would like to get more information about becoming a peer mentor, contact us at Info@unitedspinalva.org
