AnswersNow is an online platform that supports caregivers of children on the autism spectrum. This is done by providing curated content and pairing them with a personal, Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA) that they can contact on a daily basis for guidance and recommendations. Caregivers are given a short questionnaire. These answers are then used to pair them with one of the 50+ BCBA's who then becomes their personal support. They also provide parents with quick tips, articles, and financial resources specifically catered to their needs.
