Physical therapists use motion analysis to expose mechanical flaws that are not visible to the naked eye. They are able to see arm or leg movements on a frame by frame basis, and the cascade effect of problems and compensations. It is a powerful assessment tool that can expose the underlying causes behind injuries

Combined with our computer graphics, physical therapists compare the motion to the sport's accepted norms or to professional athletes. With this information, they can design a corrective exercise program to meet a patient's specific needs. Understanding the root cause of the injury will speed the rehabilitation process and allow a return to the sport or activity as efficiently as possible.

Motion analysis is available in the Train Smart, Bike Fit and Shoe Fit Programs.
