The Virginia Cooperative Extension is an educational outreach program of Virginia's land-grant universities; Virginia Tech and Virginia State University, and a part of the National Institute for Food and Agriculture, an agency of the United States Department of Agriculture. Extension programs are delivered through a network of faculty at two universities, 108 county and city offices (find your local one here), 11 agricultural research and Extension centers, and 6 4-H educational centers.

Extension brings information, education, and knowledge to you - wherever you live in the commonwealth.
